

Miss Eleanor Ransom is described as the "infant prodigy" of Vassar. Although she has attended school for only six and one-half years she is in the honor group of the freshman class. International.

The Prince of Wales's arrival at Bombay on his tour of India was the occasion of elaborate official ceremonies. The photograph shows the procession on the way to Government House. International

Playfellow, brother of Man o' War, which was sold to Harry A. Sinclair for $100,000 and which is the subject of litigation to recover the money on the ground that the horse is unsound. One trial has resulted in a disagreement. Underwood & Underwood

At the landing stage the Prince was greeted by the Viceroy of India (left) and the Governor of Bombay, who welcomed him to India. International.

This is one of the large post-war type of British submarines which will be scrapped if undersea warfare is abandoned by decision of the Washington conference. Keystone View Co.

The Prince, accompanied by the Earl of Reading, who is Viceroy of India, on his first visit to the Empire of the East. International.

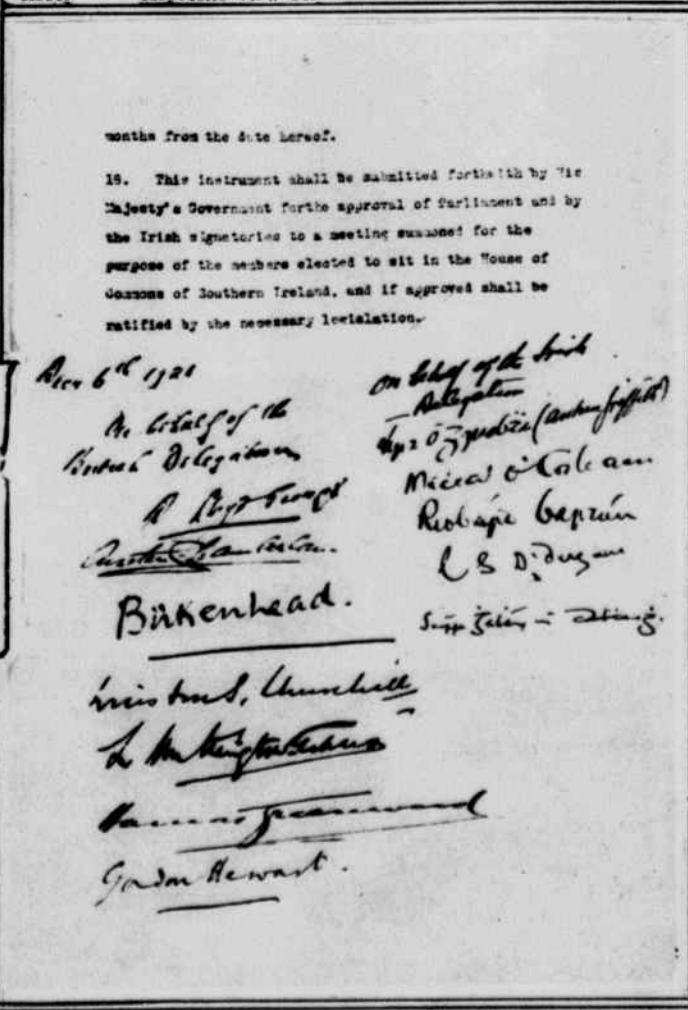

Above—Home nursing and hygiene are being taught to New York's foreign born, sometimes through interpreters. Here is a baby on the scales at the Chinese Ladies' Club. The nurse represents the Red Cross. N. Y. Herald photo.

At left—The Allied Reparations Commission, which has been considering the problem of payment of Germany's war obligations, is shown here.

Left to right, seated: Marquis Salvato Ragoli, Italy; Mr. Boyden, United States; M. Dubois, France; Sir John Bradbury, England; M. Delserol, Belgium. Standing, left to right: Signor D. Amelio, Italy; Mr. Mathieu, Mr. Logan, United States; Mr. Kimball Cook, England; M. Bergery and M. Bemelmans, Belgium. Gilliams.

The last page of the treaty constituting the Irish Free State, bearing the signatures of the British and Sinn Fein delegates. The Gaelic names are those of Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins, Robert Barton and Gavan Duffy. E. J. Duggan's signature was superimposed, as he left the conference before the treaty was typewritten. International.